

NEXT MEETING
MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 27, 8:00 P.M.

PILLSBURY HALL, ST. PAUL'S CHURCH, 2430 K STREET, N.W.

An unusual program for Foggy Bottomians and their friends will lead off the 1971-72 season. "Washington—a City of Many Faces," a slide show, will present little-known aspects of our city—and some now sacrificed to "progress." This will be of particular interest to newcomers to Washington and to the Bottom.

Special added attraction—you may not be able to see the Redskins play at RFK Stadium, but you can meet one in person at the September FBA Meeting.

OKTOBERFEST

Ja! It's another Foggy Bottom Oktoberfest—mit a real German band and lots of free beer.

The time—4-6 P.M., Saturday, October 16.

The place—the parking lot behind St. Paul's Church. (Enter from 25th Street beside the C & B Grocery and Delicatessen or from 24th Street next to the Jefferson House.)

See you there?

RED CROSS CALLS TO "LIVE-ALONES"

Volunteers are being recruited by the Red Cross District of Columbia Chapter to assist with a new pilot project to aid persons who live alone. Both men and women are needed for "safety check ins".

A Red Cross Volunteer will make a daily telephone call to his or her "adopted friend" for a morale boosting chat, or to ascertain needs. Should the person require medical, police or any other type of help, the Volunteer will contact the proper authorities or source to obtain it immediately.

All too often people who live alone may experience illness or accident and can go unnoticed for days at a time. This Red Cross service can eliminate that danger.

For further information, telephone 737-8300.

THE GEORGE WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY College of General Studies CONTINUING EDUCATION FOR WOMEN

Selected Topics in Consumer Affairs PART I: Developing Good Consumer Attitudes

This noncredit course is designed to assist each enrollee in developing good consumer habits which she may pass on to students in her role as a teacher, to family in her role as a homemaker and to the disadvantaged in her role as a volunteer worker. Consumer problems associated with the use of credit, advertising, budgeting and shopping will be considered. Each student will undertake a special project related to a consumer problem in her field of interest.

LOCATION: Continuing Education for Women Office
2029 K Street, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20006

DATES: Fridays, 10-12 Noon (10 sessions beginning September 30)

FEE: $55.00 for 10 sessions. Checks should be made payable to The George Washington University. Fees are nonrefundable after the start of class.

FURTHER INFORMATION: Telephone 676-7036.

TODDLERS TO HAVE EXPANDED FACILITIES AT ST. MARY'S PLAY SCHOOL

A third school year for very little people starts soon at St. Mary's Church on 23rd Street in Foggy Bottom. The play school is being voluntarily managed this year by Mrs. William Simon and Mrs. Richard Eckfield, whose toddlers are "old-timers" in the group. Other participants come from Georgetown, Northwest Washington and as far as Lake Barcroft, to take part in the unique informality of this play school. Started two years ago by Mrs. Charles Schoeneman, the group prides itself on doing as much to relax mothers as it does to teach toddlers.

This year an advanced pre-school-in-miniature will be added for eight children under the guidance of a teacher and an assistant. The idea for this additional group came from mothers who felt that some of the youngsters were showing eagerness to learn new things without a mother hovering over them. Father Abbott at St. Mary's generously offered additional space so that the two groups could run jointly.

Anyone interested in the play school or the new "advanced" group can call Mrs. Simon at 333-7514, or Mrs. Eckfield at 333-5062. The play school is limited to 25 and there are still some places left. Only two openings are still available, however, for the much smaller advanced group.

"What's to eat?" seems to be the question in the mind of David Alexander, son of Caddie and J.D., of 25th Street. The occasion was a summer outing of the St. Mary's Play School. Others in photo, L to R: Zareen Tarapore and her mother Farida, of The Elise; Sheila Johnson; and Caddie Alexander.

HAIL AND FAREWELL

The Foggy Bottom Farmer has moved to greener pastures.

FBNews architectural critic Fox Von Boom henceforth will cast his discerning eye over the urban scene of one of our neighboring cities.

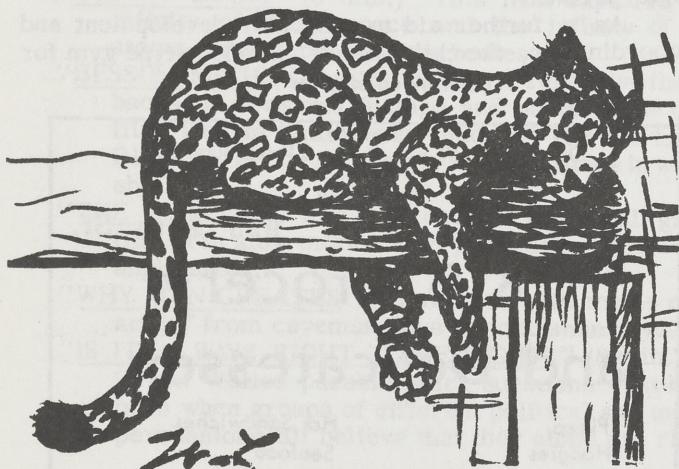

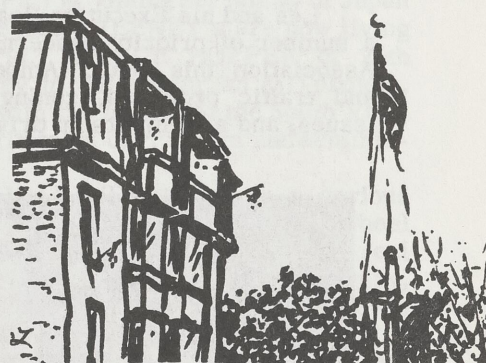

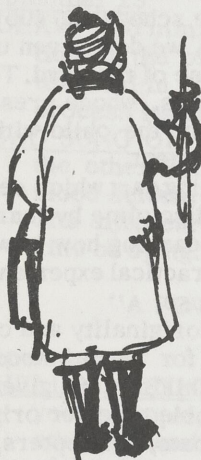

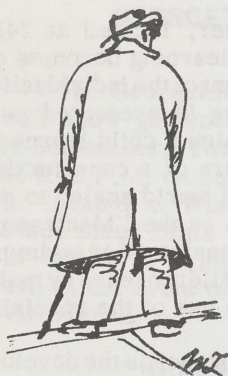

FBN art director William Lattin has been transferred to Baltimore by the Federal Highway Administration. There, he will serve as Regional Landscape Architect for Region II.

If you wonder what has caused Foggy Bottom to be stricken by this triple disaster, let us hasten to add that all three are one and the same man.

Natives of New York State, Bill and his wife Anamae have been Foggy Bottom residents for four years. Bill became active in the Association in 1968 when, in an uncanny presage of Women's Liberation, he introduced readers to the Foggy Bottom Farmerette—Mary Lande.

The following year he was elected to the Executive Committee. That was also the year that his inventive pen and ink sketches began illustrating our articles and gracing our advertisements. On this page you will see a "retrospective" of some of his works.

We wish him well on his new assignment, and hope he will continue to pass along to us, in any of his many guises, his suggestions for making our neighborhood a more pleasant, friendly and attractive place to live.

MEET YOUR OFFICERS

Les Janka, Foggy Bottom Association's new president for 1971-72, lives at 2504 Eye Street with his wife (Kathe), dog (Hajj), cat (Ashes), and "more crabgrass and oyster scale than I care to make public."

Les came to Washington from his native California in 1962, after graduating from Redlands University. He then entered Johns Hopkins School of Advanced International Studies (SAIS), where he received his masters degree in 1964. In 1968 he married Kathe Chaddock, a fellow USIA employee from Wilmington, Del., and moved to Foggy Bottom. Shortly after, Les was appointed Assistant Dean at SAIS, where he served for three years. This summer, he left SAIS to accept an appointment on the White House staff. He is now staff assistant to Henry Kissinger, Assistant to the President for National Security Affairs.

Les and his Executive Board have already defined a number of priority concerns for the Foggy Bottom Association this year. Among these are: parking and traffic problems, zoning problems, recreation issues, and a membership drive.

In spare moments between fighting crabgrass and dealing with national security affairs, Les is lining up a group of speakers for Foggy Bottom Association meetings who will address themselves to the current concerns of the neighborhood. These are expected to include city government officials, members of the District committees in Congress, and administrators from the Kennedy Center and George Washington University.

Looking forward to a successful and active year for Foggy Bottom Association, Les says, "Although my own time for work on community affairs is somewhat limited by the nature of my work at the White House, I am blessed with a very enthusiastic Executive Board and Association members from whom I receive considerable support. I think we'll see a wide range of community action and involvement in the coming year."

MONTESSORI CHILDREN'S CENTER

Montessori Children's Center, located at 2430 K Street, N.W., is a place where learning becomes an experience based on the evolvement of the individuality of the child: therefore, learning is presented as a marvelous experience through which a child learns to interpret environment and be part of a constructive society. Here, learning is a real world scaled to the needs of the child and is known as the "Montessori Prepared Environment." This consists of an optimum learning environment where the children learn by making their own discoveries through use of the specially designed Montessori materials.

The educational method comprehends the development of the psychology of the child and its emphasis lies in the constructive evolution of the individuality rather than concentrating on time schedules, subjects or grades. As a matter of fact, we don't even use a "teacher," in the stereotype sense of the word. There is a Montessori trained directress, whose presence serves as a guide to help orient the child with the materials used within the environment.

In the school we have a cooking cart which serves as a means to attain practical discipline by learning how to cook and bake; then, by learning how to weigh and measure, the child obtains practical experience in the areas of math and linguistic use.

In order to further develop originality and creativeness, we use a work bench for sawing wood and hammering nails, and thus the children are given the possibility to construct or assemble together original items such as little airplanes, boats, helicopters, and any other item through which they demonstrate their interpretation.

As a further aid to muscular development and coordination, the children use an indoor type gym for

GEORGETOWN LIBRARY TO SHOW FILM CLASSICS

The Georgetown Branch of the D.C. Public Library will show golden film classics every Thursday night in September. These free films will be shown promptly at 8:00 P.M. on September 23rd and 30th. The branch is located at Wisconsin Avenue and R Street, N.W. Since these films will be shown out of doors, the public is urged to bring cushions or blankets on which to sit; in the event of rain, the films will be shown inside the branch.

"REFLECTIONS OF OUR TIMES"

September 23

"CLAW" (30 min.) A lyrical evocation of the destruction of the old city by builders who are less interested in the human results than they are in the process itself.

"SAD SONG OF YELLOW SKIN" (58 min.) A film of the other Saigon, where bombs seldom fall and blood seldom flows, where the wounds of war are of a different sort, and the people suffer a different kind of dying.

"A POTPOURRI OF FILM ART"

September 30

"HELLO MUSTACHE" (20 min.) A date between two young people, one of "standard culture" and the other a member of a sub-culture, forms the setting of this hilarious and pointed film.

"COSMIC ZOOM" (8 min.) This film explores the infinity of outer space and the infinity of the atoms which form our own bodies.

"BESSIE SMITH" (14 min.) Employs repetitive flashbacks of newsreel footage and parts of the only film Bessie Smith ever made—"The St. Louis Blues"—to convey the mood of the times in which she lived.

"THE GOAL" (10 min.) An unusual basketball game filmed in slow motion with jumpcutting and weird angle shots.

"WHY MAN CREATES" (25 min.) Traces man's creativity from caveman days to spaceman days.

"IS IT ALWAYS RIGHT TO BE RIGHT?" (8 min.) An Orson Welles parable which questions what happens when groups of different political and moral persuasions all believe that they alone are right.

Foggy Doings

September marks the return (regularly, we hope) of this phantom columnist. She has spent the summer in the enjoyment (?) of fixing up her newly acquired home on Eye Street. With her usual luck, the 10-day vacation she picked to paint and plaster coincided with the heat wave.

KIP THORESON, formerly of Snow's Court, is also a new home owner, having purchased the Moskof home in Hughes Mews. We wish him a cool spell for his fixing-up.

The last several months have seen the departure from the neighborhood of some good FB'ers. BILL and ANAMAE LATTIN now live in Baltimore; BOB VAN ZANT has bought a home in Annapolis; JANICE BASS (2424 Pa.) is joining her family in Japan for a year or so; the DICK FEENEY's are now living in Innsbruck, Austria. JANICE HOPPER of 25th Street is on her way to Saigon for an AID project. She will be working with the faculty of the South Vietnamese National Institute on curriculum and administration.

On the mend: JOAN MEYERS, from a serious automobile accident in early summer. The wheel chair and crutches must have hampered her real estate business a bit! . . . From back surgery, BERNIE BISE, one of St. Stephen's guitarists, Snow's Court's BETTY MAY, and the Alamac's MARJORIE WHEATLEY. You may recognize one of these two tall ladies taking their exercise walks around the Bottom. . . . Also on the mend in sunny Florida is LARRY FREUDE, formerly of Eye Street, who has bought a home in Sebring.

Summer visitors: ARNOLD CONRAD, in from New York for the Labor Day weekend. Before leaving two years ago for Chicago (moved to New York in March), he was one of the "pillars" at St. Stephen's. . . . NATHANIEL DAVIS, back briefly between Ambassadorships in Guatemala and Chile.

Hope you noticed some extra special flowers in bloom in August. The geraniums of HARRIET GRUGER are hard to top; the ALAMAC'S begonia arrangements brightened 25th Street, and for a profusion of colors, you can't beat those at 914 New Hampshire Avenue and JACKIE LEMIRE'S on Eye Street.

Miscellany: Have you seen that some of the buses on the R-4 and R-6 line are marked "Foggy Bottom"? . . . And if you have missed seeing the Jankas' sheepdog, Hajj—he's still around, minus about 20 pounds of hair and still the friendliest 80 pounds of pup you can imagine.

The Sunday Star's magazine section article on restaurants near the Kennedy Center wisely did not omit our good Mellonas Restaurant. The writer said: "It's strictly a neighborhood spot and proud of it." We agree and are proud of it. . . . Sorry they missed mention of Adams Rib, another good neighbor and fine restaurant.

Ellen Schwarz, resident of the Jefferson House and former distributor of the FBNews, and Ron Gabriel, Channel House, were married August 22 in Bridgeport, Conn. They will continue to live in Foggy Bottom.

Soupcon *

by Dorth Arnold

On a recent evening after cocktails in Harriet Gruger's jewel-like garden on Eye Street we had delicious cold cucumber orange soup. Following this delightful beginning Harriet served an elegant dinner in her charming little house. This is the menu.

Cocktails

- *Cold Cucumber Orange Soup
- Filet Mignon
- *Corn Souffle
- Salad
- Peach Shortcake
- Coffee

*Cold Cucumber Orange Soup

For eight people. Peel 6 cucumbers, seed and chop them. Simmer the chopped cucumbers in four cups of chicken broth for 15 minutes. Remove from the stove and add two cups of orange juice and 1/2 t. salt. Chill. When ready to serve add finely chopped mint as a garnish.

*Corn Souffle

Grate 2 cups of fresh corn. Add 1 t. sugar, 1 t. salt, 1 T. corn starch, 2 T. melted butter, 2 eggs slightly beaten. Pour all into a buttered casserole or a buttered souffle pan. Bake in a slow oven, 325 degrees, for about 45 minutes.

NEEDLEWORK SHOW

ARTS OF THE NEEDLE, an embroidery show of contemporary work in the media of applique, patchwork, crewel, needlepoint and sewing will be held in George Washington University's Marvin Center at 800 21st Street, N.W. on October 4 - October 29.

This needlework exhibition, the first entirely professional show to be seen in Washington, D.C. contains works by artists from the United States and Britain. The pieces displayed will consist of wall panels, cloth sculpture, pillows, clothing and useful soft objects. They were selected by Mr. Carl Fox, former Director of the Museum Shops at the Smithsonian Institution.

Many pieces are for sale.

climbing, crawling, jumping, and sliding, and a program of Swedish gymnastics.

We basically use seven educational disciplines which consist of: art, music, sensorial, language, math, geography with history and science. Each educational discipline is practiced in the respective individual areas of the school.

We like to emphasize in our classes the recognition by the child of the social structure and we try by establishing a positive environment to culture the fundamental understanding for respect towards each other. Therefore, children have the freedom to be spontaneous and free to choose their occupational attitudes as long as their activities do not interfere with the rights and freedoms of the surrounding children.

It is important to note that the Montessori Children's Center is not a day care center, although a full day program for children is offered. Presently, we still have a limited number of openings for full day students aged from 3 to 3-1/2 and further information can be obtained by calling 333-3228. A program by special arrangements with the George Washington University will be held at the school's location on September 27, at 7:30 in the evening. —Miss Givaudan
